IRST LUNCHEON CLUB IS FORMED

OCAL BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL MEN FORM BRANCH OF THE NATIONAL EXCHANGE CLUB

Another evidence that New Smyrna is grown into a real city is the fact that all real cities nowadays have noonday luncheon clubs, and this noonday luncheon club has been formed in this city.

The new club is the Exchange club and is a unit of the National Exchange club organization, which has 300 clubs in every state in the union and in the District of Columbia. The local club is the tenth one of the kind to formed in the state of Florida.

For some time there has been a prominent among the business and professional men of New Smyrna for the formation of a noonday luncheon club, and the matter has been frequently discussed, but without definite action toward organization. The relative merits and benefits of the various club, the Kiwanis club, the Exchange club and others have been discussed, and to talk the matter over with those interested, Percy Wright, a member to the Miami Exchange club, came here last week and invited several men to meet him at the Alba court Inn last Friday evening. After a free discussion it was decided to put the matter over until Wednesday of the week, when Mr Wright stopped over in New Smyrna on his way from Miami to Jacksonville and met with ten men at the Alba Court.

The plan and benefits of association as an Exchange club were explained by Mr. Wright, and it was decided to start the organization with the ten men present, perfecting the local organization later. Those present at the meeting Wednesday were J. S. Duss, Jr., R. L. Goulding, A. W. Ashton, H. J. Waters, L. H. Elias, J. R. Rowley, J. J. Jones, H. Rood, J. Tom Smith and William Behne. E. M. Webster was unable to be present, but will become a charter member. Mr. Behne is a member of the Exchange club in Bryan, Ohio, and will transfer his membership here.

The temporary organization was made with the selection of R. L. Goulding as president, J. S. Duss, Jr., as vice president, and J. J. Jones as temporary secretary and treasurer.

It was decided to have the weekly luncheons from 12:30 to 1:30 o'clock each Tuesday and the first luncheon meeting of the New Smyrna Exchange club will be held next Tuesday noon at Alba Court Inn.

The purpose of the noonday luncheon club is to get the members together for one hour each week in a friendly and social way to talk over matters of general interest to themselves and the city and community in general. Its purpose is to work with and supplement the work of the local chamber of commerce and to give the chamber of commerce every possible assistance in carrying on its program for the upbuilding and betterment of the community.

Its purposes and functions are similar to those of the Rotary and Kiwanis clubs, the Rotary, Kiwanis and Exchange clubs organizations being the largest luncheon club organizations in the United States, both in number of clubs and in number of members.

The charter of the local club will be presented by a representative of the national organization as soon as all of the preliminaries of organization have been completed, which will probably be in a few weeks

Poultry Raisers to Hold Meeting Tuesday Evening

The members of the Indian River Poultry and Pet Stock association will hold a called meeting in the public school building tonight, beginning at 7:30 o'clock. It is important that all members be present, as arrangements will be discussed and made at this time for the meeting of the county federation of poultry associations to be held in New Smyrna next week Tuesday evening, when definite plans will be completed for exhibits to be made at the Volusia county fair to be held January 25 to 26.

ANNUAL METTING OF CHURCH HELD

REPORTS SHOW CONDITION IS FLOURISHING AND PROMISE MUCH PROGRESS FOR COMING YEAR.

That the New Smyrna Congregational church is in the most flourishing condition in its history and with splendid prospects for a successful year ahead, is indicated by the reports of officers submitted at the annual meeting of the church held in the chapel Tuesday evening of this week.

The attendance at this annual meeting was the largest ever had at an annual meeting. The reports showed that every dollar of the large budget adopted for the year 1923 has been paid and the benevolent apportionment has been met.

A bountiful supper was prepared and served by the members of the Ladies Aid society of the church, preceding the business session, and the supper was thoroughly enjoyed by the church members.

Rev. W. H. Pound as moderator presided over the meeting and the hearing of the reports and discussions took up a large part of the time of the meeting. The large attendance, the splendid spirit of harmony and the deep interest manifested in church affairs give promise of still greater progress in the coming year.

In the election of officers to serve the church organization through this year, the following were chosen.

Clerk—Fred B. Pierce.

Treasurer—H. C. Phillips.

Church School Superintendent—J. R. Berry.

Assistant Superintendent—Dr. L. A. Robinson.

Ushers—Mr. Currie, Mr. Bird, Mr. Chilee, Mr. Mathes.

Resolutions for H. I. Hamilton

The following resolutions on the passing of Harry I. Hamilton, a faithful member and worker in the church, were adopted at the meeting:

"Complete" was written in the early life of Harry I. Hamilton at his home on Hillsboro street on the evening of December 10, 1923, after a short illness, indicating his transition into the spirit world.

It is eminently fitting that his friends and fellow churchmen mark his passing by a few words of review and appreciation, and the fel-

DINNER BY CIVIC LEAGUE ENJOYED

The regular dinner meeting of the New Smyrna Civic League held Tuesday evening at Hotel Gordon was attended by a large number of men and women, who enjoyed a splendid dinner and the program of talks given after the dinner. Dr. David Forster, as president of the Civic League, presided at the meeting and introduced the speakers. "Bob" Holley of Sanford was the principal speaker of the evening and gave a splendid talk, emphasizing the fact that he has watched with pride the progress of New Smyrna and Coronado and said that when the new bridge across the river at this place is finished he expects to become a property owner at Coronado to enjoy out splendid beach. Following Mr. Holley talks were given by Mr. Williams, a tourist from northern Michigan, and "Bill White," a former cop and mayor of some town in New Jersey, who proceeded to tell some of the things wrong with New Smyrna. Col. Y. Hans, always an interesting talker, entertained the guests with a splendid talk, and the benediction was pronounced by Rev. B. B. Law.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank my many friends for their acts of kindness and sympathy extended during the sickness and after the death of my beloved sister, and also for the beautiful floral offerings. These kindnesses were especially appreciated because my sister was practically a stranger here.

OFFER OF TREES TO THE Y. M. C. A.

LEESBURG MAN WILL PRESENT A SUFFICIENT NUMBER TO PLANT TWO ACRES AT LAKE WINONA

Closing his address with the generous offer that as soon as the county Y. M. C. A. has two more acres of land at Lake Winona ready to plant to citrus fruit trees, Dr. W. A. McKenzie of Leesburg brought a round of applause at the annual convention dinner of the county organization at Hotel Gordon Monday night.

Dr. McKenzie made the principal address of the evening and gave a splendid talk to the men present. He is a strong believer in the good that can be accomplished by the Y. M. C. A. and expressed this belief in strong words.

For some time the work of clearing some of the land in the Lake Winona tract has been going on, being done mostly by the young men members of the organization during the time they have been in camp there, and two acres have now been planted to citrus trees. The work of clearing is being carried on and the offer from Dr. McKenzie is that as soon as two acres more have been prepared, he will make the Y. M. C. A. a present of a sufficient number of trees to plant the tract.

There were about 50 present at the dinner, which followed a business meeting of the county committee, and the affair was a very enjoyable one.

A Burr endowment was created, using the $10,000 realized from the recent sale of the William A. Burr property to Rio Vista. It was decided that the fund should be kept intact and the interest only used.

Prior to the dinner a meeting of the county committee was held, at which time the budget calling for $6,000 for the year was adopted. Following the banquet and during the business session this budget was approved by the convention.

The convention was opened by M. W. Ashton, member of the county committee from New Smyrna, and Dr. Dean T. Smith of Daytona, president of the county organization, presided during the business meeting. Edward Horne acted as toastmaster for the evening and talks were made by Dr. McKenzie, Rev H. S Eggbrecht and F. A. Jackson, state Y. M. C. A. secretary.

J. B. Duns, treasurer, reported that the total receipts for the past year were $9,850 and that the total disbursements amounted to $6,860 62. Considering the amount in the treasury at the beginning of the year, a balance of $62.97 was reported on hand.

The national constitution created at the convention in Cleveland, O., last October was adopted.

The following resolutions were reported by the resolutions committee and adopted by the convention:

We desire to express our thanks to Almighty God for the many blessings showered upon our work during the past year and desire to renew our allegiance to Him and pledge ourselves to further service on behalf for the young men and boys of Volusia county.

The committee desires to submit the following resolutions for your approval:

Resolved, that we express our appreciation to the newspapers of Volusia county for the generous publicity given the work.

Resolved, that we desire to express our appreciation to the ministers and churches for their loyal support of the work and co-operation in service.

Resolved, that we thank the county superintendent, the school principals and other school authorities, who have given their assistance in making the Y. M. C. A. work an effective part of the work of the county high schools.

Resolved, that we express confidence in the County Committee and secretaries and thank them for their self sacrificing services.

Resolved, that the funds as provided in the budget be raised without delay in order that the most effective work may be done.

Resolved, that we urge the expansion of the work to cover every community in the county and lay

CONTRACT IS LET FOR NEW BRIDGE

AUSTIN BROTHERS ARE LOWEST BIDDERS ON STRUCTURE TO CONNECT CITY WITH PENINSULA.

Contracts for the construction of the new bridge which is to extend from the foot of Lytle avenue and connect this city with the peninsula were let by the board of county commissioners at a special meeting of the board held Monday in DeLand.

Section A of the contract, which calls for the construction of 40,000 yards of embankment, was let to W. T. Hartley of Jacksonville, whose bid was the lowest submitted.

Section B of the contract, calling for the construction of the complete bridge with draw and toll house, was let to the Austin Brothers Bridge company, the lowest bidders on this part of the contract.

The contract for clearing, grading and surfacing of the boulevard from the east end of the bridge to the ocean beach was no tlet by the board at this time, pending an understanding with the owners of the land through which this boulevard is to pass. It is understood an agreement had been filed some time ago with the county board that the right of way for this boulevard would be donated and the clearing, grading and surfacing would also be done by the land owners.

The construction of this bridge was authorized under a special act passed by the last session of the legislature and an election in this district, authorizing the issuing of not to exceed $100,000 in time warrants to pay for the construction.

During the meeting the commissioners voted to advertise in various newspapers of the county warning everyone in the county liable to purchase of any form of occupational license that payment for these licenses were due on January 1, and that unless they are taken out and paid for within 30 days from date of publication of the advertisements all delinquents will be prosecuted.

The amount of county moneys on deposit January 1 in all county depositories was reported as follows:

General revenue fund, $15,038; road and bridge fund, $33,800; fine and forfeiture fund, $11,400; agricultural fund, $2,600.

Bridge Club Entertained

The Tuesday Bridge Club was pleasantly entertained this week by Mrs. J. H. Hibbard at her home on Faulkner street. For the first time this season there were four tables in play, three of the members having returned from the north since the last meeting, and one new member having been added to fill the vacancy of one who will not be here this year.

The scores showed Mrs. E. E. Neal to be highest and she received a popular book as a prize. The hostess served refreshments of vegetable salad, sandwiches, pickles, coffee and cake after the games. Those who have been playing regularly and were present were Mesdames Neal, Werfelman, W. R. Teats, Rose Teats, Latham, Daly, Rood, Peanell, Carson, Craig, Powers and Miss Corinne Neal. Mesdames Hopkins, Kelley and McKeown were in attendance for the first time this season, and Mrs. F. B. Watson was playing in place of Mrs. Lawrence, who will not return to New Smyrna the winter. ANNUAL POULTRY SHOW COUNTY FAIR

One of the attractions at the first Volusia county fair which is destined to draw much attention from January 22 to 26, will be the second annual poultry show of the Federation of Volusia County Poultry associations. Those in charge of this department of the fair have been much encouraged by the number of inquiries received and entries have been made from all sections of the state and from outside points.

A building 42x80 feet has been provided for this exhibit. It has been found that even this building will not be too large for the display, and in view of this the officers have confined the awards to exhibitors within the state, although there will be many entries from other states not competing for awards.

Officers of the Federation of Volusia County Poultry association are: E. W. Brown, DeLand, president; J. S. Shoesmith, Samsula, vice president; E. Gretchen Smith, Daytona, secretary-treasurer; Orpha Cole, home demonstration agent, and T. A. Brown, county agent.

Organizations affiliated with the association are: Indian River Poultry and Pet Stock association, Halifax Poultry association, West Volusia Council of Agriculture and Home Economics, Osteen Boosters' club, and Samsula Farmers' Mutual Benefit association.

Managing the poultry show will be H. E. Bates, Daytona Beach, superintendent; J. D. Case, DeLand, assistant; E. Gretchen Smith, Daytona, secretary.

SHOOTS HIS WIFE AND ANOTHER MAN.

NEGRO USES GUN EFFECTIVELY, KILLING COLORED MAN AND FATALLY WOUNDING HIS WIFE.

"Bubber" Wallace, a well known colored man of this city, was instantly killed and Mrs. Polli, colored, was fatally wounded in a shooting affair in the colored part of the city at an early hour Wednesday night. The shooting is supposed to have been done by Gus Polli, husband of the woman, who has disappeared.

Wallace was shot three times, one bullet piercing his heart and the other taking effect in his chest near the heart. He was probably killed instantly. The woman was shot once through the left lung and once in the hip. She was in a critical condition following the shooting and unable to make any statement of the affair up to a late hour yesterday.

The police were called immediately after the shooting and from the information they were able to gather it seems that Polli, who has been employed in the express office, and his wife have been separated for some time. The woman had a room with her sister in a house on Julia street. Other people in the same house say that Polli and his wife and Wallace came to the house where the woman roomed about a half hour before the shooting and all three entered a room in the house.

What took place in the room during this time is not known, but the occupants of the house were startled by the five shots and immediately afterward Polli left the house.

Entering the room they found Wallace dying and the woman unconscious on the floor with blood gushing from her wounds. The police were immediately notified and hurried to the scene. Chief Johnson believes he will soon have Polli in custody.

A coroner's jury was empanneled by Justice Brooke Thursday morning and immediately after organizing adjourned until Friday evening, to await the outcome of the woman's wounds.

That the murder was deliberately planned and carried out is the belief of the police, and this theory is strengthened by the discovery of a note which Polli had written to another colored man, asking him to go to the express office and meet train No. 37 in his place Wednesday night, and also to send his effects to another town in this state. It is believed Polli shot his wife first and then killed Wallace.

Mrs. Rowley Entertains

Mrs. J. K. Rowley entertained at a Mah Jong party at her home on Wednesday night in honor of her sister, Mrs Mary Pike. The first ladies' prize was won by Mrs. Wesley Snyder, and Mr. Snyder, Sr., won the consolation prize. Mr. Comer received the first gentlemen's prize and Harry Galbreath captured the booby. Mrs. Rowley served to her guests chicken patties, hot rolls, asparagus salad, cake and coffee. Those enjoying the game were Miss Mary Pike, Jacquelin Snyder, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Snyder, Mrs. Snyder, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Comer, Mr. and Mrs. Daly, Mr. and Mrs. Webster and their guests, Misses Charlotte Pall and Marjory Conboy, Mrs. Gregory, Mrs. Leipold, Messrs. Forest Snyder, Harry Galbreath and Taylor Seabright.

Fowl Smashes Glass in Auto; Driver Hurt

As a result of a chicken becoming frightened and flying through the windshield of the car he was driving from this city to Daytona last Thursday afternoon, J. S. Manning, a cigar salesman with headquarters at West Palm Beach, received painful cuts about the head and face when the fowl smashed the windshield into many pieces.

After flying through the windshield the chicken passed around the driver's head and on out of the car, alighting on the ground unhurt, it is said. The salesman proceeded on to Daytona and received medical treatment.

NEW BUILDINGS FOR PASCO COUNTY FAIR

AGRICULTURAL AND LIVE STOCK BUILDINGS CONSTRUCTION WILL START AT ONCE

FLORIDA STATE NEWS ITEMS

Newsy Paragraphs Gathered Through out The State For The Benefit Of Our Readers

Dade City.—Construction of two new buildings, one to house the community agricultural exhibits and one for live stock, at the Pasco county annual fair, which will be held January 23, 24, 25 and 26, has been started. The buildings will be of galvanized iron and will add 4,320 square feet to the present available exhibit space.

The community exhibit building, which will probably be known as Ziegler hall, in honor of the secretary of the Fair association, will be 100 feet in length by thirty-four in width. It will be located on the west side of the fair grounds, just north of the main entrance, and will extend towards the poultry pavilion.

The live stock building, something that was conspicuous by its absence at the fair last year, will be located on the shore of the lake at the north end of the grounds. It will be sixty by thirty-two feet in size, and the interior will be divided into five stock stalls, so arranged that they can be closed by gates, making pens for keeping hogs, sheep and goats. Both buildings will be constructed so that it will be an easy matter to add to them in future years.

The first annual Pasco county fair was held last January and was pronounced by a number of visitors who were competent to judge, including Manager P. T. Strieder of the South Florida fair and Canadian Commissioner B. H. White, as being the largest and best county fair that up to that time had been held in the state. Twelve communities had exhibits and the display of the agricultural resources of the county was surprising by fine.

Owing to the short time in which the fair was gotten up, on account of lack of sufficient funds, the space for exhibits was limited and it is to overcome this, as well as to provide for more communities that have signified intention of making exhibits as well as for individual farm exhibits, that the new buildings are being erected.

Space will now be available, not only for the sixteen communities which have asked for it this year but also for an enlargement of the women's department and the addition of an educational exhibit from the schools of the county. The principal exhibits in the county fair, excepting perishables, will be used in making up the county exhibit at the South Florida fair, and will then be taken to the Florida Exposition in Madison Square Garden, New York, in February.

NO HERESY TRIAL BY DALLAS DIOCESE

PRELATE FINDS CHARGES JUST

Diocesan Board Declares Matter In Question Is Too Important For One Diocese To Adjudicate

Dallas, Texas.—Rev. Lee W. Heaton, Episcopal rector of Fort Worth, will not be called to trial before the ecclesiastical court of the Dallas diocese of the Episcopal church because he is alleged to have declared that belief in the Virgin Birth is "not essential." That decision was announced by the standing committee of the Diocese of Dallas.

Bishop Moore declined to consent to further proceedings in Rev. Heaton's case, saying he was unwilling to proceed "in view of the fact that similar interpretations of the doctrine in question are held, taught and preached by those in this church belonging to a higher order of the ministry than the party charged." He said the matter should rest until "opportunity may be given those in authority to proceed and point out the course of wisdom and justice in such matters."

The statement issued at the conclusion of the standing committee's meeting reads:

"The bishop coadjutor and the standing committee of the Dallas diocese have now concluded consideration of what is known as the Heaton case, and it is now within their power and right to make known the result of their deliberation. The bishop coadjutor has declined to permit this case to come to trial and has expressed his declination in the following statement to the committee:

"The enclosed matter being presented to me, under the direction of Canon XXIV, Section 15, of the Canons of the Diocese of Dallas for determination, I find that the holdings therein, based upon the information furnished, are well founded.

"However, in view of the fact that similar interpretations of the doctrine in question are held, taught and preached by those in this church belonging to a higher order of the ministry than the party charged, I am, therefore, unwilling to consent to a trial of one of the presbyters of this diocese upon such a charge; and the Diocese of Dallas rests this matter until opportunity may be given to those in authority to proceed, and to point out the course of wisdom and justice in such matters."

"The standing committee has no comment to make on this decision, other than to state their belief that the decision is the only possible to reach at this time. The question in controversy has over-reached the boundaries and powers of any one diocese, and the issue is one which must be met and must be settled one way or the other, by the mind of the whole church Catholic.

"Throughout the entire investigation the standing committee has done that which was its duty under the directions of the Canon of the diocese. It has conducted this investigation with due regard to every right and propriety, and it has not been influenced by the expressions of opinion of those outside the diocese.

"It has kept silent during this investigation, according to the ethics of such investigations, and is making this statement at this time because it believes the members of the diocese are entitled to the same."

Friedel, asking for continuation of the present law pending a study by a proposed government commission. A message was read from W. W. Atterbury, vice president of the Pennsylvania railroad, urging action.

He admitted his criminal record when confronted with evidence in the police identification bureau here, according to the newspaper account.

CONGRESS TO HIT ARMS SALE

Message Boasts Of Successes Claimed For Revolution And Flays President Obregon

Washington.—A formal protest against the plan of the United States to sell war materials to the government of President Obregon in Mexico was transmitted to the state department by representatives here of the De la Huerta revolutionary group. Apparently the communication was doomed to be lost in departmental files, as there was no indication that ed.

The Washington government in the past has scrupulously avoided any dealings with agents in this country of revolutionists against a friendly power. They have been recognized in its receipt would even be acknowledging official way.

There were signs in congressional circles, however, of objections to the sale that might prove more effective. The action of the administration in deciding to grant the request of the Obregon government was under discussion among members of both houses who are in Washington during the holiday recess and some opposition was voiced.

Representative Fairchild, Republican, New York, announced his intention of introducing a resolution upon the reconvening of the house, proposing to forbid the government sale of war equipment to any foreign power. Even if such a resolution should be adopted, however, it seems doubtful that it could be put through in time to prevent the completion of the sale to Mexico and no one denies that the president now has full legal powers to make such a sale.

The protest of the De la Huerta faction was addressed to Secretary Hughes and signed by Enrique Seldner, the stationery used being headed "Confidential Agency of the Provisional Government of Mexico."

J.—Hubert Forman, 17, of Weis Belmar, are on trial here growing out of charges of manslaughter for the deaths of Charles Spinder, 11, and William Hubbard, 16, who burned to death last summer while "playing Indians" with the older boys. The fire got out of control because the ground was oil-soaked from the gas plant situated close to the scene.

THAW PREPARES TO SEEK RELEASE

PRESENT MOVE IS TO HAVE NOTORIOUS KILLER JUDGED SANE BY PENNSYLVANIA COURT

WILL FILE PETITION SOON

New York Attorney Will Press Kidnaping And Assault Charges Against Pleader

New York.—Counsel for Harry K. Thaw, slayer of Stanford White and since 1917 confined in Kirkbride's asylum in Philadelphia, are seeking to have him adjudged legally competent, says a copyright story from Philadelphia appearing in the New York Sun recently.

If freed, Thaw's counsel hope to obtain for him restoration of his personal fortune now estimated at nearly a million dollars, according to the story. Then he would proceed to New York and surrender there to face the charge of having beaten a boy—of which charge his counsel hope to clear him.

Thaw stands accused here of having lured Frederick Gump, Jr., son of a Kansas City manufacturer, to a New York hotel and with having beaten his naked body savagely with a whip after having locked the boy in a room. The specific charges are kidnaping and second degree assault. Conviction would carry a long term in Sing Sing. Indicted with Thaw is George C. O'Byrne, a companion.

The Sun states that after a three-day investigation of rumors current for months that Thaw planned to seek his liberty it was able to confirm the report "from unimpeachable sources," and outlines the legal battle by which his counsel hope to obtain his liberty.

According to the newspaper story, legal proceedings will be started within two weeks in the common pleas court in Philadelphia to have Thaw adjudged legally competent. Then overtures would be made to the New York authorities, in order that Thaw might surrender. His counsel will seek to arrange bail and an early trial.

The article states that Thaw's defense will be that he was adjudged insane at the time he was alleged to have committed the acts of which he is accused, but that he is now sane. A sane man, it will be contended, can not be held for trial for acts of irresponsible moments and every assurance will be offered to prove that there is no likelihood of a mental relapse.

Wayne B. Wheeler Sued For $100,000

Washington.—Suit for $100,000 damages for alleged libel and slander was filed in the District of Columbia supreme court against Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel of the Anti-Saloon League, and nine others by Francis C. Harley, chairman, of the National Liberal Alliance. The defendants, who include officials of other organizations identified with national prohibition activities, were charged with having issued libelous statements as detectives to ascertain sentiment in the country regarding prohibition.

Wireless Device To Halt Airplanes

London.—Great Britain possesses a contrivance similar to the method the Germans were reported to have discovered for putting the magnetos of airplane motors out of action. Experiments with this device led to the discovery that by providing for the insulation of magnetos the effect of the contrivance could be counteracted. When the British planes are fitted with insulation, they will be able to fly with their engines proof against such radio impulses as the Germans have devised.

Seine Puts Paris In "Venice Guise"

Paris.—Paris and its suburbs, recovering from the effects of the New Years' frolic, now realize something of the seriousness of the rise of the river Seine. The heavy rainfall swelled the river to such an extent that the rapids is alarming. The officials at the foreign office found that the water was seeping into the basement of the building, where important archives are stored. It is hoped that the freshet will not bring about such a condition as obtained in 1910, when people went to their work in boats.

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale

BY MARY GRAHAM BONNER

NEW YEAR'S STOCKING

Maggie was a little girl and lived with her mother and her father and her older sisters and brothers. The sisters and brothers were a good deal older than Maggie, and they made a great pet of her.

Her father called her "My daughter and "My Duppy." No one knew what it meant, but Maggie knew it was a little short pet-name of her father's own invention which meant daughter.

Maggie's mother called her "Little cub" which, too, was a pet name, as she was so like a dear little fat, round cub!

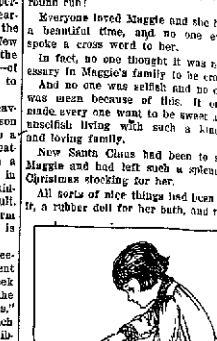

Everyone loved Maggie and she was a beautiful time, and no one ever spoke a cross word to her.

In fact, no one thought it was necessary in Maggie's family to be cross.

And no one was selfish and no one was mean because of this. It only made every one want to be sweet and unselfish living with such a kind and loving family.

New Santa Claus had been to see Maggie and had left such a splendid Christmas stocking for her.

All sorts of nice things had been in it, a rubber doll for her bath, and a

bright new pennies to start a lovely new red purse with, so the purse wouldn't feel too empty.

It was nice, too, having a little money right after Christmas for Maggie had spent all her savings before Christmas.

Then there had been a handsome doll named Johnny Naples. He, too, had been in the stocking.

He had a suit of many colors, and it was decorated with beads. His eyes were of beads, too, and his hair was of worsted. But he was a dashing looking gentleman and Maggie dearly loved him.

Then she was given a cunning little cloth dog. Ever since Christmas he had gone to bed with her, and even though he never seemed to close his eyes, he was a quiet a bed fellow as could be. He never snored and he never tossed, and he liked to stay in bed as long as Maggie did. So the holidays Maggie stayed in bed later in the mornings than on the other days of the year when there was school.

But now Maggie's stocking was quite, quite empty, as of course Christmas stocking would be by New Year's eve.

"I think I will put my stocking away," said Maggie. "I've taken everything out of it now. For awhile it was fun to keep a few things in it, and Johnny Naples slept in it for awhile. He found it nice, too."

"I wouldn't put it away until after the New Year," said Maggie's mother. "That seems to be the best time of all."

"Shall I have Johnny Naples sleep in it again?" Maggie asked.

"I think not," said Maggie's father. "I think it would be nice if Johnny Naples sat up tonight and watched the Old Year out and the New Year in."

"I feel sure he would like to do this."

And Johnny Naples looked from one to the other with his head eyes in a way which showed that he agreed.

So the stocking was not put away and Johnny Naples sat up and watched the Old Year out and the New Year in.

And Maggie went to bed.

The next morning when she got up there sat Johnny Naples on the sofa and hanging down over the top of the sofa was Maggie's stocking filled right up.

"I thought," said Maggie's father "that I would fill a stocking. I knew Santa Claus wouldn't mind, as I wasn't taking away any of his time from him. Christmas is his day, and New Year's Day he is resting.

"So I filled the stocking—but not at all as Santa Claus fills the Christmas stocking."

There in Maggie's stocking were all kinds of nuts and raisins and pop corn, a little box of hard candies, some dates and an apple and an orange, a pair of new warm knitted stockings from her mother and a pair of shoes from her daddy, and it made a most delightful New Year's stocking.

"Oh, how wonderful," cried Maggie, "and what a nice stocking. Such a nice stocking for New Year's—so different from Santa's, we wouldn't really and truly want Christmas twice a year, and a Christmas and a New Year's treat just like this is fine."

And Johnny Naples looked very much pleased. One look at his bead eyes showed that!

NEW BUILDINGS FOR PASCO COUNTY FAIR

AGRICULTURAL AND LIVE STOCK BUILDINGS CONSTRUCTION WILL START AT ONCE

FLORIDA STATE NEWS ITEMS

Newsy Paragraphs Gathered Through out The State For The Benefit Of Our Readers

Dade City.—Construction of two new buildings, one to house the community agricultural exhibits and one for live stock, at the Pasco county annual fair, which will be held January 23, 24, 25 and 26, has been started. The buildings will be of galvanized iron and will add 4,320 square feet to the present available exhibit space.

The community exhibit building, which will probably be known as Ziegler hall, in honor of the secretary of the Fair association, will be 100 feet in length by thirty-four in width. It will be located on the west side of the fair grounds, just north of the main entrance, and will extend towards the poultry pavilion.

The live stock building, something that was conspicuous by its absence at the fair last year, will be located on the shore of the lake at the north end of the grounds. It will be sixty by thirty-two feet in size, and the interior will be divided into five stock stalls, so arranged that they can be closed by gates, making pens for keeping hogs, sheep and goats. Both buildings will be constructed so that it will be an easy matter to add to them in future years.

The first annual Pasco county fair was held last January and was pronounced by a number of visitors who were competent to judge, including Manager P. T. Strieder of the South Florida fair and Canadian Commissioner B. H. White, as being the largest and best county fair that up to that time had been held in the state. Twelve communities had exhibits and the display of the agricultural resources of the county was surprising by fine.

Owing to the short time in which the fair was gotten up, on account of lack of sufficient funds, the space for exhibits was limited and it is to overcome this, as well as to provide for more communities that have signified intention of making exhibits as well as for individual farm exhibits, that the new buildings are being erected.

Space will now be available, not only for the sixteen communities which have asked for it this year but also for an enlargement of the women's department and the addition of an educational exhibit from the schools of the county. The principal exhibits in the county fair, excepting perishables, will be used in making up the county exhibit at the South Florida fair, and will then be taken to the Florida Exposition in Madison Square Garden, New York, in February.

PRELATE FINDS CHARGES JUST

Dallas, Texas.—Rev. Lee W. Heaton, Episcopal rector of Fort Worth, will not be called to trial before the ecclesiastical court of the Dallas diocese of the Episcopal church because he is alleged to have declared that belief in the Virgin Birth is "not essential." That decision was announced by the standing committee of the Diocese of Dallas.

Bishop Moore declined to consent to further proceedings in Rev. Heaton's case, saying he was unwilling to proceed "in view of the fact that similar interpretations of the doctrine in question are held, taught and preached by those in this church belonging to a higher order of the ministry than the party charged." He said the matter should rest until "opportunity may be given those in authority to proceed and point out the course of wisdom and justice in such matters."

The statement issued at the conclusion of the standing committee's meeting reads:

"The bishop coadjutor and the standing committee of the Dallas diocese have now concluded consideration of what is known as the Heaton case, and it is now within their power and right to make known the result of their deliberation. The bishop coadjutor has declined to permit this case to come to trial and has expressed his declination in the following statement to the committee:

"The enclosed matter being presented to me, under the direction of Canon XXIV, Section 15, of the Canons of the Diocese of Dallas for determination, I find that the holdings therein, based upon the information furnished, are well founded.

"However, in view of the fact that similar interpretations of the doctrine in question are held, taught and preached by those in this church belonging to a higher order of the ministry than the party charged, I am, therefore, unwilling to consent to a trial of one of the presbyters of this diocese upon such a charge; and the Diocese of Dallas rests this matter until opportunity may be given to those in authority to proceed, and to point out the course of wisdom and justice in such matters."

"The standing committee has no comment to make on this decision, other than to state their belief that the decision is the only possible to reach at this time. The question in controversy has over-reached the boundaries and powers of any one diocese, and the issue is one which must be met and must be settled one way or the other, by the mind of the whole church Catholic.

"Throughout the entire investigation the standing committee has done that which was its duty under the directions of the Canon of the diocese. It has conducted this investigation with due regard to every right and propriety, and it has not been influenced by the expressions of opinion of those outside the diocese.

"It has kept silent during this investigation, according to the ethics of such investigations, and is making this statement at this time because it believes the members of the diocese are entitled to the same."

He admitted his criminal record when confronted with evidence in the police identification bureau here, according to the newspaper account.

CONGRESS TO HIT ARMS SALE

Message Boasts Of Successes Claimed For Revolution And Flays President Obregon

Washington.—A formal protest against the plan of the United States to sell war materials to the government of President Obregon in Mexico was transmitted to the state department by representatives here of the De la Huerta revolutionary group. Apparently the communication was doomed to be lost in departmental files, as there was no indication that ed.

The Washington government in the past has scrupulously avoided any dealings with agents in this country of revolutionists against a friendly power. They have been recognized in its receipt would even be acknowledging no official way.

There were signs in congressional circles, however, of objections to the sale that might prove more effective. The action of the administration in deciding to grant the request of the Obregon government was under discussion among members of both houses who are in Washington during the holiday recess and some opposition was voiced.

Representative Fairchild, Republican, New York, announced his intention of introducing a resolution upon the reconvening of the house, proposing to forbid the government sale of war equipment to any foreign power. Even if such a resolution should be adopted, however, it seems doubtful that it could be put through in time to prevent the completion of the sale to Mexico and no one denies that the president now has full legal powers to make such a sale.

The protest of the De la Huerta faction was addressed to Secretary Hughes and signed by Enrique Seldner, the stationery used being headed "Confidential Agency of the Provisional Government of Mexico."

THAW PREPARES TO SEEK RELEASE

PRESENT MOVE IS TO HAVE NOTORIOUS KILLER JUDGED SANE BY PENNSYLVANIA COURT

WILL FILE PETITION SOON

New York Attorney Will Press Kidnaping And Assault Charges Against Pleader

New York.—Counsel for Harry K. Thaw, slayer of Stanford White and since 1917 confined in Kirkbride's asylum in Philadelphia, are seeking to have him adjudged legally competent, says a copyright story from Philadelphia appearing in the New York Sun recently.

If freed, Thaw's counsel hope to obtain for him restoration of his personal fortune now estimated at nearly a million dollars, according to the story. Then he would proceed to New York and surrender there to face the charge of having beaten a boy—of which charge his counsel hope to clear him.

Thaw stands accused here of having lured Frederick Gump, Jr., son of a Kansas City manufacturer, to a New York hotel and with having beaten his naked body savagely with a whip after having locked the boy in a room. The specific charges are kidnaping and second degree assault. Conviction would carry a long term in Sing Sing. Indicted with Thaw is George C. O'Byrne, a companion.

The Sun states that after a three-day investigation of rumors current for months that Thaw planned to seek his liberty it was able to confirm the report "from unimpeachable sources," and outlines the legal battle by which his counsel hope to obtain his liberty.

According to the newspaper story, legal proceedings will be started within two weeks in the common pleas court in Philadelphia to have Thaw adjudged legally competent. Then overtures would be made to the New York authorities, in order that Thaw might surrender. His counsel will seek to arrange bail and an early trial.

The article states that Thaw's defense will be that he was adjudged insane at the time he was alleged to have committed the acts of which he is accused, but that he is now sane. A sane man, it will be contended, can not be held for trial for acts of irresponsible moments and every assurance will be offered to prove that there is no likelihood of a mental relapse.

Wayne B. Wheeler Sued For $100,000

Washington.—Suit for $100,000 damages for alleged libel and slander was filed in the District of Columbia supreme court against Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel of the Anti-Saloon League, and nine others by Francis C. Harley, chairman, of the National Liberal Alliance. The defendants, who include officials of other organizations identified with national prohibition activities, were charged with having issued libelous statements as defendants to ascertain sentiment in the country regarding prohibition.

Wireless Device To Halt Airplanes

London.—Great Britain possesses a contrivance similar to the method the Germans were reported to have discovered for putting the magnetos of airplane motors out of action. Experiments with this device led to the discovery that by providing for the insulation of magnetos the effect of the contrivance could be counteracted. When the British planes are fitted with insulation, they will be able to fly with their engines proof against such radio impulses as the Germans have devised.

Seine Puts Paris in "Venice Guise"

Paris.—Paris and its suburbs, recovering from the effects of the New Years' frolic, now realize something of the seriousness of the rise of the river Seine. The heavy rainfall swelled the river to such an extent that the aspect is alarming. The officials at the foreign office found that the water was seeping into the basement of the building, where important archives are stored. It is hoped that the freshet will not bring about such a condition as obtained in 1910, when people went to their work in boats.

NEW YEAR'S STOCKING

Maggie was a little girl and lived with her mother and her father and her older sisters and brothers. The sisters and brothers were a good deal older than Maggie, and they made a great pet of her.

Her father called her "My daughter and "My Duppy." No one knew what it meant, but Maggie knew it was a little short pet-name of her father's own invention which meant daughter.

Maggie's mother called her "Little cub" which, too, was a pet name, as she was so like a dear little fat, round cub!

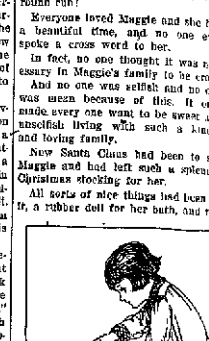

Everyone loved Maggie and she was a beautiful time, and no one ever spoke a cross word to her.

In fact, no one thought it was necessary in Maggie's family to be cross.

And no one was selfish and no one was mean because of this. It only made every one want to be sweet and unselfish living with such a kind and loving family.

New Santa Claus had been to see Maggie and had left such a splendid Christmas stocking for her.

All sorts of nice things had been in it, a rubber doll for her bath, and a

bright new pennies to start a lovely new red purse with, so the purse wouldn't feel too empty.

It was nice, too, having a little money right after Christmas for Maggie had spent all her savings before Christmas.

Then there had been a handsome doll named Johnny Naples. He, too, had been in the stocking.

He had a suit of many colors, and it was decorated with beads. His eyes were of beads, too, and his hair was of worsted. But he was a dashing looking gentleman and Maggie dearly loved him.

Then she was given a cunning little cloth dog. Ever since Christmas he had gone to bed with her, and even though he never seemed to close his eyes, he was a quiet a bed fellow as could be. He never snored and he never tossed, and he never turned, and he liked to stay in bed as long as Maggie did. On the holidays Maggie stayed in bed later in the mornings than on the other days of the year when there was school.

But now Maggie's stocking was quite, quite empty, as of course Christmas stocking would be by New Year's eve.

"I think I will put my stocking away," said Maggie. "I've taken everything out of it now. For awhile it was fun to keep a few things in it, and Johnny Naples slept in it for awhile. He found it nice, too."

"I wouldn't put it away until after the New Year," said Maggie's mother. "That seems to be the best time of all."

"Shall I have Johnny Naples sleep in it again?" Maggie asked.

"I think not," said Maggie's father. "I think it would be nice if Johnny Naples sat up tonight and watched the Old Year out and the New Year in."

"I feel sure he would like to do this."

And Johnny Naples looked from dad to his bead eyes in a way which showed that he agreed.

So the stocking was not put away and Johnny Naples sat up and watched the Old Year out and the New Year in.

And Maggie went to bed.

The next morning when she got up there sat Johnny Naples on the sofa and hanging down over the top of the sofa was Maggie's stocking filled right up.

"I thought," said Maggie's father "that I would fill a stocking. I knew Santa Claus wouldn't mind, as I wasn't taking away any of his time from him. Christmas is his day, and New Year's Day he is resting.

"So I filled the stocking—but not at all as Santa Claus fills the Christmas stocking."

There in Maggie's stocking were all kinds of nuts and raisins and pop corn, a little box of hard candies, some dates and an apple and an orange, a pair of new warm knitted stockings from her mother and a pair of shoes from her daddy, and it made a most delightful New Year's stocking.

"Oh, how wonderful," cried Maggie, "and what a nice stocking. Such a nice stocking for New Year's—so different from Santa's, we wouldn't really and truly want Christmas twice a year, and a Christmas and a New Year's treat just like this is fine."

And Johnny Naples looked very much pleased. One look at his bead eyes showed that!

The poinsettia one of the wonderful flowers of Florida with flaming bloom of red often as numerous as the leaves of contrasting green has its name from Joel Roberts Poinsett secretary of war in VanBuren's cabinet He was a botanist of ability and while on an official visit to Mexico he discovered the plant and had samples sent to his home in Charleston S C whence it spread to other localities In Florida it attains unusual size and beauty, doing its best during the winter holidays

NATIONAL CAPITAL AFFAIRS

Hoover Wants Aviation and Radio Laws

WASHINGTON—Legislation for the revision of the navigation laws for control of traffic in the air and for regulation of radio service were among the recommendations made by Secretary Hoover in the annual report of the Commerce department. The rapid growth of aircraft and radio transmission alike he said had created need for administration development while the navigation laws under scrutiny required adjustment to the increased commercial expansion.

Within the department itself Mr Hoover recommended that congress follow the general reorganization plan prepared under the Harding administration and make three administrative groupings to deal respectively with industry trade and navigation.

In this connection likewise the report dealt with the foreign trade situation and the studies made under Mr Hoover's direction for determining the financial situation of the United States as left by trade balances in visible and invisible exports and imports. It was noted that during the period under review—the fiscal year 1923 24—commerce in general had revived prices had firmed somewhat and the nation as a whole had experienced prosperity.

Through the huge export balances of the last few years we have shifted from a debtor to a creditor nation said Mr Hoover, and the theory is now more or less generally accepted that our hitherto normal excess of exports over imports must ultimately shift to an excess of imports as we have large balances to receive in payment of interest.

The situation in most branches of agriculture he continued seems to be gradually adjusting itself. The partial recovery in foreign demand for cotton has permitted a higher price for the crop of 1923 than for that of 1922 in spite of an increase of 14 per cent in acreage and an appreciable increase in production.

The dairy interest in general is prospering the demand for dairy products varying more than for most other agricultural products with general movements of prosperity and depression in industry. As for wheat which is the more dependent on foreign markets than any other agricultural product and which is subject to greatly increased competition from Canada and other foreign countries it seems necessary gradually to reduce acreage."

Plans to Speed Up the Patent Office

APPLICATIONS for patents must lie for about ten months in the patent office before any action is taken upon them even though since July 1 accumulation of 70 000 cases which the office has in arrears is being decreased at the rate of 1 000 cases a month—it would take five years to bring the patent office up to date. A drive for relief is going to be made immediately in congress.

Manufacturing industries are deluging members of congress with appeals for relief in the patent office which is putting the brakes on industry. This reaches into practically every home in the country especially through the employment furnished by these factories.

Brig Gen Herbert M Lord director of the budget bureau is expected to include recommendations to remedy the situation in the budget which will be laid before congress.

At least 100 additional examiners are needed. Remodelling the famous old building on the squares between F and G and Seventh and Ninth streets to provide additional office space for examiners and building of a steel stackroom for the millions of printed copies of patents is recommended.

At least half of the old land office building which is across F street from the patent office should be made available those who have studied the problem say. Fifty more rooms are necessary and would be a real economy with the existing force. Every nook and corner in the patent office building is now used including the ends of all halls not used as exits.

It is not generally known that Uncle Sam runs the biggest 10-cent store in the world. About 200 000 printed copies of patents are sold all over this country each month at 10 cents apiece. It costs 6 cents each to print them which is one of the biggest jobs done by the government printing office Public Printer Carter says. He says 60 linotype machines are kept busy eight hours a day all through the year on this work alone. Patent office printing costs $1 000 000 a year which comes back into the treasury with at least $200 000 profit.

In addition to the 200 000 copies of patents distributed every month 2 000 000 copies are sent to libraries all over this country and to foreign countries in exchange. There are in the patent office, subject to sale 50 000 000 copies of patents which makes this the most valuable store in Washington. These have a cost value to the government of $3 000 000 and a sale value of $5 000 000.

Visitors to Washington seldom realize that the F street entrance to the patent office is an exact reproduction of the Parthenon.

Estimates for improvements to give the patent office an adequate workshop call for an appropriation of $1 000 000.

Rearrangement of Seats in the Senate

THROUGHOUT the whole period in which the senate has occupied its present quarters the desks have been until now equally divided between the two sides of the chamber. In recent years because of the greater number of Republican members it has been necessary to place incoming Republicans on the Democratic side. Pepper and Reed of Pennsylvania Norbeck of South Dakota Couzens of Michigan and Brookhart of Iowa are thus placed.

Now there are 48 desks on the Democratic side and 55 on the Republican side. The significance of this rearrangement is that not only the radical Republicans but the two Farmer Labor party senators Shipstead and Magnus Johnson who defeated Republican candidates in recent elections and thus are not classified as even near Republicans are seated on the Republican side.

In recent years and under processes of time and usage the senate chamber has been a bit shabby. It has always been a gloomy place due to a raftered ceiling glazed but so cut up by heavy beams as to obstruct the light. The desks while of the best solid mahogany and fine examples of the cabinet maker's art have been varnished again and again in the course of years. During the past summer the chamber has been done over radically and beautifully. The heavy rafters have been removed from the ceiling practically doubling the lighting a new carpet has been put down the walls have been cleaned and the woodwork has been repainted. The desks have been burned off with acids and a new dressing given to the wood.

Unknown to the public the older of these desks have rich historical associations. There are no written records but in secret places beneath the covers records have been kept by veteran employees who are jealous of these secrets. It was only a few years ago and through the exercise of all his diplomatic powers that Senator Lodge contrived to have assigned to him Charles Sumner's old desk. Joe Robinson of Arkansas the Democratic floor leader now holds with pride the desk at which Daniel Webster sat through his senatorial service.

Uncle Sam May Study Earthquakes

RECOMMENDATIONS for earthquake study in the United States as a whole similar to the work being done in California are made by E Lester Jones director of the coast and geodetic survey in his annual report.

Disturbances which in some cases caused more or less local damage have occurred in the last two years in Canada near Maine and New York in Illinois Kentucky Indiana Missouri Montana Utah Arizona Washington California and beneath the sea off the Oregon coast. If the scientific investigation being made for the preparation of an earthquake map of California could be widened the report said the country would benefit the information thus gained being of practical value to architects and engineers.

It would be possible to indicate in this way Director Jones said places where earthquakes might be expected and where special precautions in order to avoid the danger of catastrophe were necessary. Such knowledge he added would be of particular value in determining the sites for great dams or other reclamation projects.

The outstanding purpose he declared, is to make if possible to reduce the loss of life and property in great earthquakes and eliminate it entirely in minor ones. The work in California standing alone is handicapped by the lack of investigation of a similar character for the country as a whole.

Mr Jones also reported that the wire-drag survey of the inside steamship routes of southeastern Alaska begun in 1914 would be completed next summer. Deep water channels as far west as Cape Spencer already have been dragged marking the completion of one of the most important surveying projects of the territory.

Practically all vessels bound to or from Alaska pass through these waters and many in the past have been stranded with considerable loss of life.

Southern Alaska is a region of volcanic disturbances. Islands frequently rise up in a night from the sea others disappear beneath the sea. The national monument Valley of Ten Thousand Smokes, was created when Mount Katmai blew its head off a few years ago.

POULTRY

Comfortable Fowl Must Be Free From Insects

To be comfortable a hen must be free from mites and lice she must have plenty of fresh air and water a well ventilated house without drafts, and a balanced ration. If the weather turns cold and the house is drafty the hen will need more food for maintenance and will draw on what would otherwise have been used for the egg supply.

Records from the sixth egg-laying contest at Mountain Grove Mo furnished the following data as to the amount of food required by hens for maintenance and for egg production.

The indications are that the hen uses three-fourths of the feed to supply her body and one fourth to make eggs and from each one fourth of feed above maintenance she makes two eggs which weigh one-fourth of a pound thus producing a pound of eggs for each pound of feed above maintenance. Data showed that the average hen weighed five pounds consumed 75 pounds of feed and laid 150 eggs.

The hens had feed before them at all times and as the average hen consumed 75 pounds of feed which is 1 200 ounces it will be seen that the hen's digestive capacity is 100 ounces per month and that she averaged 74 ounces for her body and from the other 25 ounces she made 12½ eggs that weighed 25 ounces.

Although we believe the hen's digestive capacity is about the same at all times yet she does not produce the same number of eggs each month which is accounted for by the proportion of feed required for her body at different times. If the weather is pleasant and other conditions right the hen may use only 50 ounces of feed for her body at different times and make 25 eggs from the other 50 ounces of feed but if the weather turns cold and her house is not what it should be so that 90 ounces of feed are required for her body she can only make five eggs from the other ten ounces and if the weather changes suddenly so that 110 ounces of feed are needed to support her body she can and does arrest the eggs which are partly developed turns the egg material back into her own system and uses it as food which explains why hens stop laying on short notice following a sudden change in the weather.

Remove Down From Goose by Using Powdered Rosin

Perhaps you know of several good ways to skin a rabbit, but do you know of one good way to down a goose? If you have had some experience in preparing one of these birds for the table or the market and are still not in a class with the experts doubtless you have had considerable trouble in removing the down from the skin after the feathers have been removed. Nearly everybody has the same trouble.

However the problem of removing this persistent down can be solved with ease if you have a little powdered rosin on hand. Sprinkle the picked goose lightly and evenly with the fine rosin and then dip the bird in hot water. The heat melts the rosin which merges with the down. When the temperature has gone down it is an easy matter to rub off the rosin and the down together. This method does a clean job and the rosin has no effect on the flavor of the goose.

Question of Feeding in Winter to Produce Eggs

There is no reason why the fellow who keeps chickens should expect them to hibernate for the winter. Many farm flocks produce reasonably well during spring and summer when they have the freedom that nature affords. Handled properly these flocks could be made to yield a profit all through the year. A flock properly culled comfortably housed and adequately fed will lay through the winter as well as summer.

The question of feeding hens during winter in order to get eggs becomes quite largely a matter of sensible feeding. It is the surplus feed that not needed to keep up the bodily functions which is used in egg production.

Sanitary Fountain Must Be Opened and Cleaned

Sanitary fountains are not sanitary because that name is printed on the side. They must be opened up and cleaned occasionally with boiling water. The fact that the sunlight and air cannot easily reach the inside of some sanitary fountains is an additional reason for giving them a thorough scrubbing.

Yards Not Necessary

It is not absolutely necessary to have yards for the backyard laying flock if it is not convenient to do so. The birds can be put into their house and kept confined until next spring if necessary. With proper management excellent production can be secured where this plan is followed.

Best Laying Pullets.

Pullets that commence laying early are considered better layers than those that mature late, hence the statement Keep the early spring pullets.

COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY OARSMEN START TRAINING EARLY

Oarsmen at Columbia university started training early this year for next season's contests. During cold weather they use indoor rowing apparatus. Photograph shows them on the first day's practice with three crews in action.

Lucke Is Star Bowler

Leo C Lucke winner of the 1923 eastern individual bowling championship tourney who twice defeated Jimmie Smith star bowler of Milwaukee Wis while the latter was on tour meeting all comers last season. A match is contemplated with Lucke and Glenn Riddell against Charley Trucks and Bill Knox 1923 American bowling congress champion.

New York Furnishes Six Captains for Princeton

A study of the geographical distribution of the homes of captains of Princeton university's athletic teams brings to light the unusual fact that no less than six of the captains come from New York city or from towns near New York.

Two of these men are captains of major sport teams. J T Pirie II captain of this year's crew comes from New York city as does Harvey Emery captain of the track team. Besides being captain of the track team Emery is captain of the wrestling team president of the senior class and president of the Varsity club and is holding down a regular position as tackle on the orange and black football team.

Carl Moser captain of swimming and national intercollegiate diving champion is also from New York city. John Klaess basketball captain and Kenneth Dittmar captain of lacrosse are from Rockville Centre L I and Scarsdale N Y respectively.

Princeton's crack polo team is captained by William Jackson of Hempstead L I.

Joe Dugan Is Hailed as Greatest Third Baseman

Joe Dugan by his great work for the Yankees last season and his showing in the world series just about earned the right to be classed as the greatest third sacker in the game. National leaguers say that Pie Traynor of Pittsburgh is his only rival.

Wins "Harrier" Title

Fred Wachsmuth of the Glenco A C New York winner of the junior national cross country championship races of the A A U at Fairmount park near Philadelphia.

FAST ELEVEN TO BE FOUND IN BASEBALL

Easy Matter for Experts to Pick Star Aggregation.

Speaking about All America football teams it would be an easy matter for the experts to pick such an aggregation from the ball players who hold forth in the American league.

Dick Reichle now playing the outfield for the Boston Americans was a star end at the University of Illinois.

The New York Yankees have three renowned footballers on the roster. Mike Gazella who plays shortstop was a star halfback at Lafayette. Outfielder Hinkie Haines was a sensation on the gridiron with Penn State. Outfielder Hendricks is a former Vanderbilt star.

Riggs Stephenson who second sacks for Cleveland was a star halfback at University of Alabama one of the greatest players the south has ever turned out.

Shortstop Gagnon of Washington and Outfielder Bill Barrett of the White Sox starred in football at Holy Cross.

The White Sox have in Pitcher Castner one of the greatest backs ever produced in the West. He starred at Notre Dame and won much praise from Coach Rockne.

First Baseman Lou Gehrig of the Yankees was a featured player at Columbia and Bob Knode of the Cleveland Indians played at Michigan.

Experts who are really looking for an All America football team can recruit it from Ban Johnson's league.

Iowa Star Is Winner

Harold R Phelps University of Iowa cross country star won the individual championship of the western conference at Columbus O. His time was 26 minutes 18 seconds and he will try out for the American Olympic team next spring in either the 5 000-meter run or the 3 000-meter steeplechase.

World Series Hero Is Discarded by Giants

It doesn't pay to be a world series hero—especially on the New York Giants.

Casey Stengel hero of 1923 Jess Barnes hero of 1922 and Johnny Rawlings hero of 1921 will tell you so.

Rawlings saved the game for the Giants in the series of 1921 by a miraculous stop and throw on the deciding play of the deciding battle. He was traded to the Phillies the next season.

Jess Barnes was the pitching ace for the Giants in the 1922 series with his wonderful ten inning tie game against Bob Shawkey. He was traded last June to Boston.

Stengel won the only two games the Giants captured in the last series with home-run drives. Now he is traded to Boston.

Don't be a world series hero say Stengel Barnes and Rawlings and save your job with the Giants.

Ruel Best Catcher

Often it takes a lot of hard work and years of effort before a player receives proper recognition. Muddy Ruel after being shifted around in the American league from St Louis to New York to Boston and finally Washington is now pronounced the best catcher in the American league by no less an authority than Connie Mack.

Ames won the annual Missouri Valley cross country run.

Annual Meeting of Church Is Held

lowing lines are offered as a monument in the memory of those who remain

The charm of service entered his soul at an early age and remained to the last moment of consciousness, his business training was most thorough and was apparent in all his transactions, but most conspicuous in his church work

Born and reared in Elyria, Ohio, there came a day when the desire for a change laid its hand upon him and wishing to enjoy the sensation of life in the sunshine and among flowers he came to New Smyrna in 1910

Being possessed of a charming personality, in which the social instinct predominated he made friends with all with whom he became associated in his religious, social and business life Service and sacrifice were exemplified in his character Considering it little less than a crime not to do more than was expected of him his was distinctly a "second mile" religion The first mile was duty and obligation, but the second mile contained the joy of unselfish service and vicarious sacrifice In fact what might be termed a super conscientiousness in his devotion to the daily task, coupled with a minor regard for bodily welfare and comfort which usually accompanies such a spirit of devotion, is partly the cause of the break in health which resulted in his early demise

He was of commanding presence, a man of rich taste and high ideals and the memory of our associations clings around us like a blessed benediction that can never be forgotten

He passed away like a true soldier of the cross "having fought a good fight and kept the faith" Now

Whereas it has pleased Divine Providence to remove from our midst our beloved Brother Harry J Hamilton, and

Whereas, Christ's Congregational Church has lost a loyal and faithful member and his family a devoted and loving husband and the community an upright and honored citizen, therefore, be it

Resolved that Christ's Congregational church extend its heartfelt and sincere sympathy to his family and loved ones and be it further

Resolved, that a copy of this resolution be spread upon the church minutes, a copy be mailed to the family of our deceased brother and be printed in both newspapers

president in the chair J S Diss, Jr, was present and prepared the necessary resolutions for borrowing from the banks the needed money for completing the clubhouse

Plans for the bazaar to be held the 7th and 8th of February in the clubhouse were discussed

Invitations were read from St Augustine to attend the sectional meeting to be held in that city January 28th Also an invitation from A B Moseley, local Coral Gables representative, for a delegation to join the Coral Gables party January 12th

Later it has been learned that the date of the Coral Gables trip has been changed to January 16, the bus to leave Alba Court Inn at 2 p m

An interesting report of the state convention held in Palm Beach was given by Mesdames Hearne and Perry

The following were admitted to membership Mesdames McPherson Silvers, Hildreth, Richardson and Bidwell Mesdames Disbennett and Webber were admitted to associate membership

Mrs D T Baggett and children have returned to their home in Miami, after a visit of ten days to Mesdames Ashton and Moeller

Swagger Coat of Brushed Wool

Negligees Invite Relaxation

NOW that midwinter sports are in full swing fashion's pet theme is the gay handsome original sweater According to the stylist's version in regard to the sweater of the moment brushed wool is the most popular slogan in knitted outerwear parlance The majority demand is for slipon or swagger coat knitted or comfy looking fur like effects

Anyone looking for an eminently fashionable cold weather sweater will make no mistake in selecting just such a model as is pictured herewith for it is featured with very latest style details It is first and foremost of brushed wool which classes it as a topnotch fashion It is a heavy slipon with horizontal broad black and narrow white stripes alternating on a tan ground That these stripes are horizontal is one of its claims to style distinction for stripes around and around are characteristic of the very latest in knitted garments Other outstanding notes which guarantee its eligibility to the advance sweater class are the long snug fitting sleeves and the high standing collar attached at the back

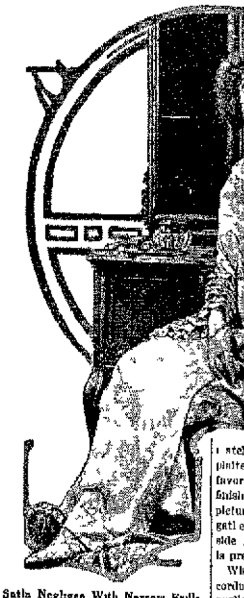

Slipon Sweater for Sport Wear

Of interest also is the knitted hat of camel's hair wool in tan with border of tan and green It is quite the desirable thing these days that our sweaters be topped with hats and scarves which are also knitted The wearing of the scarf is quite an art It is thrown about the throat in accidentally on purpose ways which challenge admiration from those who appreciate the picturesque

Entrancing color effects are part of the scheme in brushed wool models One of the most interesting is brushed wool knitted in a vague plaid pattern. Many of the shaggy sweater types are either tan or gray with hints of tender blue royal green or orange patterned in stripes and checks No combination outclasses black and white

There is a wide field to choose from in negligees, and even the most unpretentious of them undertake to be joyous or at least attractive Materials used for them range all the way from gayly flowered cotton crepes to brocaded chiffon and chiffon velvets Their lines are long and graceful with much emphasis placed on individuality in sleeves which are generally set in and flowing Sometimes they are of a different material from the body of the negligee Plaited georgette contributes much to their making and in the most elaborate garments long sleeves of georgette are extended to trail with the trailing skirt

Satin crepe de chine and taffeta make the most practical of the dressier models They are shown in the pastel shades and in changeable weaves Besides the lighter colors deep orchid or fuchsia American Beauty and black find hosts of admirers On the light colors just now marabou swansdown and ostrich feather bandings are having a great vogue as trimming dyed to match the light colors Narrow frills plaited or gathered are also in high favor and a handsome example of this finish is shown on the satin negligee pictured It is finished with rows of gathered frills Ribbon roses at the side fastening complete a model that is pretty and practical

Satin Negligee With Narrow Frills

Where warmth must be considered corduroy is unrivaled for practical negligees This cotton fabric has a silky sheen and a suppleness that assure a graceful garment and it may be lined with silky mercerized fabrics that match it in color The less expensive models are plain

SOME OF LIFE'S COMEDIES

Picked at Random From Recorded Doings of the Very Newly Married.

Here's to the very newly married! It was winter and the young husband complained bitterly of a "beastly" pain in his back; lumbago, pleurisy; "Heaven knows what!" he groaned to his terrified spouse. And talked largely of nerve life insurance. Terrified into action she recalled her mother's remedy for such mysterious aches and pains, saw a New York Sun and Globe writer.

A boiling hot bath and—wasn't it borax? On this fateful morning she therefore drew the bath, arranged the towels and seeking in the kitchenette—equipped for her white on her recent wedding trip by her feminine relatives—she discovered the borax in a large bag. Uncertain of the quantity, she flung the contents into the tub and ordered her husband to soak. He did, from crown to toe.

After which there were scenes. The borax was scratch.

And then there was the bride who on a cruise with her groom in a forty-four sailing sloop, in the midst of a really terrific storm when the crewless captain had on one knee struggling with sheets and centerboard, called loudly from the cabin, "We shall capsize!" He groaned but fled to her rescue, and found her sitting peacefully on a rocking camp stool. She smiled sweetly when he entered.

"Would you mind," she asked tenderly, "buttoning my shoes."

And about the bride whose husband demanded sausage meat—the kind one fries, you know, the back home sort, served in little sizzling cakes? How about her when she went to her butcher and, learning that no sausage meat was to be had at the moment, bought with gravity and hard earned leave a dozen or so small fat sausages and ordered the patient butcher to strip off the skins and dig forth the succulent innards. How about her? How about them all, bless them?

Exporting Worm Holes.

That it pays to investigate needs of foreign markets is shown by the following incident which occurred in a foreign country a short time ago, recently reported to the lumber division of the Department of Commerce.

An American exporter sent an unusually poor consignment of oak, which was found to be wormy, to his overseas connection, but no market could be found for this parcel. This consignment would have caused a great loss to the exporter were it not for the fact that the consignee happened to visit an antique furniture factory. The manufacturer was at that time busily engaged in making antique grandfather's clocks and found the oak in question to answer his purpose very nicely because it eliminated the work of boring worm holes by hand. The parcel was disposed of at a premium and a profitable connection was established.

According to a statement made by State Comptroller Ernest Amos, it will pay automobile owners to "shop early" for their 1924 tags. The Florida automobile law is a complicated one, quite equal, he says, to the federal income tax law. The series of tags include 25 different kinds, and it takes a little time to figure out the right tag for the right car. The year's registration to December 1, 1923, was nearly 175,000, with receipts mounting up to nearly $2,000,000. It takes two railroad cats to bring the tags from the factory. To avoid the rush, says Mr. Amos, make your application right now.

MANY HAVE BLOOD OF BURR

Numerous Descendants of Man Whose Character Has Been a Subject of Wide Controversy.

A newspaper paragraph says that Senator Carroll S. Page of Vermont has a grandson who is a cousin of Aaron Burr. The context makes it appear the thought is that cousins of Aaron Burr are few and far between. The reverse is the truth. There are hundreds and perhaps thousands of Americans who are blood relatives of this stormy petrel of American life.

To use the customary but horrible manner of speaking, you can't throw a stone anywhere in America without hitting one of Aaron Burr's cousins. They are or are not proud of the relationship, according to their individual viewpoint, but most of them are proud that they can trace their relationship to Burr through the family of Jonathan Edwards, who was Aaron Burr's grandfather.

Jonathan Edwards is buried in a churchyard at Princeton, N. J., and his grandson, Aaron Burr, lies alongside of him. Edwards had a brother or two and ten sisters, every one of whom married and became father or mother to a large family of children. In the case of the Edwards sisters personally the word large can be used entirely properly in a physical sense. The average height of these ten Edwards girls was six feet. They were known collectively as "Jonathan's sixty feet of sisters."

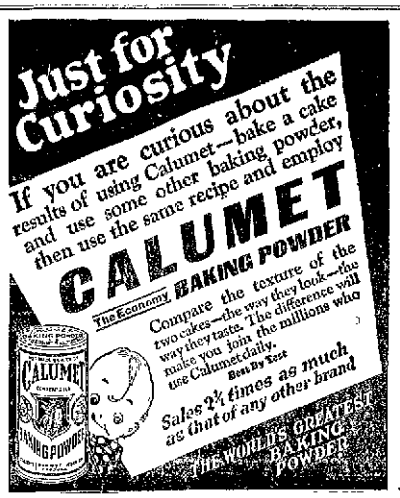

At one time in this country there were seven presidents of American colleges who were of the Edwards blood and cousins of Aaron Burr. There are in Chicago several families whose members are direct descendants of the Edwardses and therefore who, if they so wish, can claim cousinship to Burr. It is believed that there are more Americans of the Edwards blood than of the blood of any other one American family. Cousinship to Aaron Burr therefore necessarily is a common holding.—Chicago Evening Post.

Son of Princess Mary Not a Prince.

The baby son of Princess Mary and Viscount Lascelles, and the first grandchild of King George, is not a prince. Under letters patent issued in 1917, defining the style and title to be borne in future by members of the royal family, it is declared:

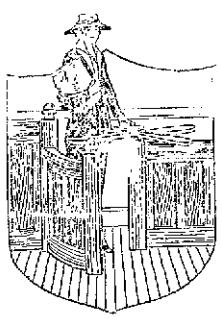

"The children of any sovereign of the United Kingdom and the children of the sons of any such sovereign and the eldest living son of the eldest of the Prince of Wales shall have and at all times hold and enjoy the style, title, or attribute of royal highness, with their titular dignity of prince or princess prefixed to their respective Christian names, or with their other titles of honor; that save as aforesaid the titles of royal highness, highness, or serene highness and the titular dignity of prince or princess shall cease, except those titles already granted and remaining unrevoked."

Florida has in the Packing House News, published at Tampa, the only fruit and packing house publication in the world. Beginning with volume III, in January, 1924, it will be enlarged and improved in many ways. Special departments will be added to handle the following problems: Market data, prices and trend. Insect and disease pest control. Traffic. By-products, canning and dehydrating. The magazine will be profusely illustrated and will continue to use high-class feature articles, fiction and humor. Persons interested in any way in growing, packing, shipping or buying fruits or vegetables will be interested in the Packing House News.

The Coral Gables Inn Coral Gables Miami Florida

Another Mighty Milestone on the Path of Progress

LAUNCHING of the new Coral Gables Inn last week marks another stride forward in the stupendous development program which is now under way in Miami's Master Suburb

The Inn was designed by Architect Martin L Hampton of Miami, and is copied after the Summer Palace of the Moors adjoining the Alhambra in Spain It stands out today as one of the most beautiful of hostelries in the Miami district if not in the entire state of Florida

While Golf Course and Country Club Venetian Pool, the Alcazar Tea House, Tennis Courts, and Playgrounds add greatly to the joy of living in Coral Gables, the opening of the Inn is of dominating importance because of its pleasurable possibilities Nightly supper dances will be a feature of the winter season, and a dance orchestra from Boston will provide music Here on the terrazzo dance floor of the patio, around a Spanish fountain, and surrounded with tropical flowers and plants, one can dance to their heart's delight while the romance of Old Spain lurks in the shadows caused by the Moorish hanging lanterns

And this evening of enjoyment at Coral Gables is yours when you come to inspect this wonderful development All visitors to Coral Gables on the de luxe Pullman busses which run from your city and spend the night before returning home will be taken to the Coral Gables Inn so they can better appreciate the ideal environment which awaits the home owner

The basketball teams will go to Seabreeze tonight to play the Seabreeze teams on their own court It is expected the games will be hard fought but the local players are confident they will come home with the large end of the score

The freshmen class has two new members and the sophomore class one this week

The total cost of the two and a quarter miles of completed highway on the Okeechobee road is $25 838 41 according to a report or at the rate of $11 368 90 a mile The average depth of rock loose was nine and three fourths inches Expenditures on the Okeechobee road from the public highway bond fund time warrants district No 2 fund and road and bridge fund total $56 069 72 up to the first part of November

If day after day night after night you are straining your eyes sooner or later small disorders grow to large ones and your eyes will have serious perhaps permanent defects The glasses you now have are as perfect as science could make when you got them but now vision in one eye may have improved the other may be actually weaker than before If things do not seem normal if your eyes do not feel exactly right come in and have us make a thorough examination without obligation We can tell what is wrong Do not wait until nature drives you to consult us—eyestrain is dangerous You should have your eyes examined every two years When you decide to have your eyes reexamined remember that even should you not need your prescription changed it is good practice to have your glasses inspected and readjusted periodically You may absolutely rely on our service and advice Poor glasses are not cheap at any price most people are aware of this fact All I have to offer is the best in experience equipment and service —Fred L Mathes

Something to Think About

By F. A. WALKER

OUT OF DARKNESS

TO THINK rightly is to sharpen perception and season judgment He or she who is always blundering getting in trouble with employers and friends never remembers important events accurately is in constant danger of failure

As the mind directs so goes the body The shambling irresponsible creature misguided by a rusty mind is much like a vessel at sea which has unshipped its rudder He may be towed to port by a friendly hawser or sent to the bottom by an opposing storm

To make sure of your destination keep your mind on the splendid things you would like to accomplish Ponder them at every opportunity The thoughts to which you cling hourly are transforming you into an earnest needful person or a man or woman of no account

If you want friends be friendly Cultivate the right mental attitude towards others and all will be well

Take a contrary stand let the rust accumulate exhibit cowardice distrust disloyalty irritability habitual moroseness and nothing can save you from wreckage

Lay hold of the great potential forces of the universe and move along with them Resolve to become a part of them

Keep your mind bright by rubbing it against minds that are brighter more capable more alert than your Open the door to industry instead of idleness to thinking instead of dreaming to faith instead of doubt and you never will lack the energy with which to press forward and take your place among those who are making the world pleasanter and better

Be frank good natured and cheerful Grip your load whatever it may be and pull with all your might Have no fear of failure—no fear of any thing or anybody but yourself

Be patient and persevering Put jealousy and hate in a weighted bag and throw them overboard They will wreck the stoutest ship and blight the fondest ambition

Be not disturbed about rivalry except the rivalry existing between your good and evil self.

It is only the mortal who overcomes himself who has the power to uplift humanity and lead others from darkness to light capable at all times to measure strength with the mental Colossus and equipped to hold his own in the sternest strife when storms beat hardest against him

WHAT TO HAVE FOR DINNER

A MOST tasty and attractive serving of meat may be prepared by taking a beef tenderloin or two with very small strips of salt pork Cut the lardoons from the firm salt pork nearest the rind—they will be firmer Pull the lardoons through the fillet so that short ends will protrude on each side. By placing them at regular intervals a very pretty effect is made. Brush the meat with a quarter of a teaspoonful of mustard to each teaspoonful of salt using a teaspoonful of salt to each pound of the meat Arrange in a small roaster place slices of salt pork at the side and on this place a fat roll of well seasoned stuffing prepared from bread crumbs seasoned with sage and onion enriched with egg and butter and seasoned well with salt and pepper Parboil enough potatoes for the family with an onion added Place a potato then an onion alternately around the roast Cover and bake until the meat is brown and the vegetables tender Serve with the meat in the center of the platter and vegetables and stuffing arranged around it as they were in the roaster

Jellied Cranberries

Add a cupful of water to a quart of cranberries and cook until they may be put through a sieve add a cupful and a half of sugar—less if desired return to the fire and just bring to the boiling point to dissolve the sugar Too long cooking will make them bitter Pour out into a mold and chill

Benares Salad

Take two cupfuls of finely diced tart apples add a cupful of fresh grated coconut or well washed dry coconut soaked in milk to soften a small red pepper finely minced and a small mild Southern onion chopped very fine Mix well and add a highly seasoned French dressing Serve on lettuce or endive.

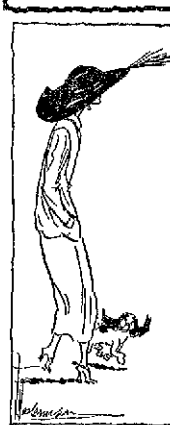

Baked Mackerel

Remove the head and tail from a split fish and put into a dripping pan sprinkle with salt and pepper dot with bits of butter and pour over two thirds of a cupful of thin cream Bake 25 minutes in a hot oven. Serve with lemon slices.

ALL THE WAY

By DOUGLAS MALLOCH

LET us find our joy today,
Not await tomorrow
There is little anyway
In the joy we borrow,
There is joy around us here,
Very lovely very near,
Looking for ahead my boy,
You may miss a lot of joy

Let us find our joy around
Not on yonder mountains
Near us now I hear the sound
Of the crystal fountains
What the road a fellow goes
You will always find a rose,
Every season every hour
Has its fruit or has its flower.

Let us find our joy—we can
Yesterday forgetting
For we never find it gone,
Yesterday regretting
What is done my lad is done,
But today another sun
Makes the sky us blue again
As the sky was ever then

In the present not the past,
Let us do our living,
Heaven we shall find at last
Giving and forgiving
Not ahead and not behind
Let us look, and we shall find
Joy is always all today,
All around us all the way

THE ROMANCE OF WORDS

"HASH"

COMPILERS and others who profess to obtain merriment from the contemplation of the various ingredients which enter into the dish now known as hash—a form of food which runs a close second to prunes in its mirth provoking propensities—owe a debt of gratitude to the French language because we ob*tain hash almost directly* from the French by the elimination of the final syllable of hachis

The hashed up or cut up food in question did not begin to be known as hash until our forefathers tired of calling it hashee in close imitation of the French word in which the final 's' is not sounded This noun is derived from the verb hacher to chop or slice or shred and in its turn came from the same Teutonic source as our own verb hack Hachis, famous for their cooking the French early recognized the tasty appetizing qualities of cooked meats cut into small bits and richly seasoned with various kinds of sauces and condiments This hachis" made its appearance in England many years ago but it did not take long for the word to be shortened by the elimination of the final es sound and now speaking literally hash is a synonym for a little of everything There is no foundation however for the legend that name of the dish came from the fact that the cook who originated it conceived the idea while under the influence of hashish or hemp—from which the word assassin is directly derived

Ackleys Meet with Accident on Way South

John A. Ackley and wife and daughter, Miss Mary, and John F Wink arrived last Friday night from their northern home in Vineland, N. J, having made the trip in their Franklin sedan. On the way south the party met with a serious accident just this side of Washington, when they met a road hog on a curve at the foot of a hill and Mr. Wink, who was driving, was compelled to run the car into the ditch to avoid a collision. The car turned turtle, but the steel braces of the top held firmly and none of the occupants were seriously injured. Miss Mary got a bad cut on her arm, Mrs. Ackley received a cut on her forehead and Mr. Ackley a cut on his hand. They were compelled to return to Washington to have a crumpled wheel replaced, which was the most serious damage to the car. Mr. Wink is enjoying a vacation and will return north next week.

The double header basket ball games scheduled to be played here Saturday night between the local high school teams and the Deaf and Dumb school of St. Augustine has been called off, and both local teams will go to Orlando that night to meet the high school teams there.

Her coming here is an event in the life of this city, and the local W. C. T. U is to be congratulated

The Cottage Tea Room will open Wednesday, January 16, and will be managed again this season by Mrs. Kate McKeown, who has operated it for the last three winters. Her efficient management has secured for it a substantial patronage, which no doubt she will enjoy again this season.

Mrs J. L Masters, wife of Dr. Jos. Masters, arrived Wednesday from Orville, Washington, and will make an extended visit to her mother-in-law, Mrs. Ida Griggs.

Mrs. Housewife! Do You Favor Food Law Enforcement?

You appreciate the vital importance of pure and fresh drugs—drugs that are prepared and packed under fixed government regulations.

How about foods? Aren't they just as important? Take baking powder, for instance—it is useful only when it produces its maximum of leavening strength in the baking. Leavening efficiency means light, wholesome bread stuffs—bakings that are easily digested, which in turn aid towards perfect health. Lack of leavening strength means flat and soggy bakings which are surely indigestible.

The pure food laws of our country have standardized baking powder—they require that it contain 12% leavening gas at the time of sale to the consumer. Why is it that these laws have not been applied to baking powder mixed with flour, and sold in sacks as self rising flour?

Thousands of barrels of self rising flour are annually sold in our southern states without any regulation by pure food measures, except in Texas.

Any grade of flour and any quality or strength of baking powder can be used in making self rising flour and sold to the unthinking public without official criticism.

Numerous baking and laboratory experiments have been conducted by state chemists and other investigators. They found a surprising amount of this mixed flour to be so deteriorated as to be productive only of heavy, soggy bakings.

Do you want to eat foods made from self rising flours that do not contain the necessary leavening strength—foods that are hard to digest and a detriment to health? Do you want the law to protect you in this instance as it protects the user of medicine? It is for you and others interested in public health to decide.

Remember Calumet Baking Powder meets every requirement of the law—that it retains its great leavening strength to the last spoonful.

Packed in tin—keeps the strength in.
